Abstract: An abstract is a brief summary of a research and is often used to help the reader quickly ascertain the research purpose. A review paper abstract contains: Background and Aim, and Conclusion. (no more than 250 words) (Times New Roman Italic 12)*

Keywords: One, Two, Three, Etc. (Use "keywords" style)*

1. Introduction (Times New Roman Bold 14)

You will find background information and a statement of the author's hypothesis in the introduction. An introduction usually describes the theoretical background, indicates why the work is important, states a specific research question, and poses a specific hypothesis to be tested.

2. Topics (with headings and subheadings) (Times New Roman Bold 14)

3. Conclusion (Times New Roman Bold 14)

In conclusion section the significance and implication of the findings are stated and areas of further research are recommended. (Times New Roman 12)

Acknowledgements (Times New Roman Bold 14)

Please acknowledge collaborators or anyone who has helped with the paper at the end of the text. (Times New Roman 12)
